

From the Library of
Ed Stupka Scott

Just Published

Mammals of Great Smoky Mountains National Park

By Alicia V. Linzey and Donald W. Linzey

Writing for laymen and biologists alike, the authors tell of distribution, habitat, predation, and food and reproductive habits of sixty-five mammal species ranging from the pigmy shrew to the conspicuous black bear. The authors have synthesized their own research in the Park with notes taken over a thirty-year period by naturalist Arthur Stupka.

148 pages, 35 photographs, paper $3.50

In Continuing Demand

Great Smoky Mountains Wildflowers, Third Edition

By Carlos C. Campbell, William F. Hutson, and Aaron J. Sharp

Acclaimed by national review media as "superb," "charming," and "delightful," this popular field guide is now enlarged to include 175 full-color photographs. Lively descriptions, botanically accurate, tell when and where to find the flowers.

112 pages, 175 full-color photographs, paper $2.50

Amphibians and Reptiles of Great Smoky Mountains National Park

By James E. Huheey and Arthur Stupka

"Recounts many original observations which should be of interest to the casual reader and . . . helpful to anyone studying the species in question." — American Scientist

112 pages, 73 photographs, paper $3.00

Trees, Shrubs, and Woody Vines
of Great Smoky Mountains National Park

By Arthur Stupka

". . . interesting and valuable to students of natural history far beyond the confines of the Park . . . should more than fulfill a long-recognized need." — The Quarterly Review of Biology

196 pages, 25 photographs, paper $2.75

Notes on the Birds
of Great Smoky Mountains National Park

By Arthur Stupka

Observations of more than 200 species based on twenty-five years of field work. "A casual but informative guide . . . a delightful book." — Saturday Review

256 pages, paper $3.00

Mushrooms of the Great Smokies: A Field Guide to Some Mushrooms and Their Relatives

By L. R. Hesler

This handsome guide describes 183 species, illustrating them with photographs cited by Science magazine as "uniformly excellent."

304 pages, 200+ photographs, cloth $5.50

*All About
the Mammals,
Reptiles, Birds,
Trees, Wildflowers,
Amphibians, Shrubs,
Woody Vines, & Mushrooms
of Great Smoky Mountains National Park*

From Your Bookstore or
The University of Tennessee Press
Knoxville 37916