

TECH AQUA BIOLOGICAL STATION

In 1973, the Tennessee Academy of Science awarded full academic scholarships to three college students to attend the Tech Aqua Biological Station's summer session on Center Hill Lake. The 1973 award winners were Phyllis Guthrie, a senior Biology major at the University of Tennessee at Martin, from Somerville; Sylvia Wagoner, senior Biology major at UT Martin, from Owensboro, Ky.; and David Robertson, junior Biology major at Martin College, from Lawrenceburg shown below with Dr. Gerald Parchment, President of the Academy for 1973. The Academy will again award three scholarships for Tech Aqua's 1974 summer session. Awards are based on scholastic excellence. The 1974 announcement is shown below.

The Tech Aqua Consortium, composed of Tennessee Tech, Belmont, Fisk, MTSU, TSU, Trevecca, UT-Martin, the University of the South, Vanderbilt, and Western Kentucky, announces the SUMMER '74 SESSION in field biology:
